PERSONAL COURSE · BUILT FROM 25 VIDEOS

The Trading Mentorship Playbook

Everything Hank teaches about scaling a trading education business, rebuilt around your business: a former doctor, $7K to $1.1M, a signal bot, a 1-on-1 mentorship and a course.

12	30+	Day 1	30 days
modules	diagrams	checklist for tomorrow	week-by-week plan

Source: about 113,000 words of transcripts from the HanckFX Business channel. His revenue figures and benchmarks are his own claims and are not verified. This is business education, not legal or financial advice.

START HERE

How this course works

Each module has the same three parts, colour-coded so you can scan it.

WHAT HE TEACHES
The principle, in his words and numbers.

YOUR VERSION
How it applies to your mentorship, course and bot.

CAREFUL
Where I'd do it differently, and why.

Contents

1 The whole machine on one page
2 Why high ticket: the math
3 Your positioning: claim, customer, offer
4 Your offer ladder and pricing
5 The chain of rates: your numbers
6 Content: what to post and where
7 Instagram story sequences
8 Lead capture: freebie, email, ManyChat
9 The funnel: page, application, reminders
10 The sales call and follow-up
11 Delivery: the 90 days and the flywheel
12 Tracking, team and when to hire
+ Pre-launch plan (14 days)
+ Start tomorrow · First 7 days · 30-day plan
+ Tool stack · What I would not copy

The ten ideas he repeats in almost every video

1. High ticket only. Fewer, better clients at $3K–$6K+ beat hundreds of $100 subscribers.

2. The business is a chain of rates. Views → visits → bookings → shows → closes → cash. Find the weakest link, fix it, repeat.

3. YouTube sells. Instagram keeps you in mind. Short form brings strangers; long form turns them into buyers.

4. Never sell to cold people. Cold → warm → hot, with top, middle and bottom-of-funnel content.

5. Hook → retention → reward. The structure behind every video, story sequence and sales video.

6. Each step only sells the next step. The first video sells the click, not the program.

7. Organic first. No ads until at least $100K a month. "Organic is the fire, ads are the fuel."

8. Close your own calls first. No sales team until about $25K–$30K a month.

9. Delivery is the flywheel. Student results become testimonials, which become content, which brings students.

10. Track everything. "You cannot fix what you don't know." Decide with 50+ data points, not feelings.

MODULE 1

The whole machine on one page

He calls these the five scaling functions. Miss one and the business stalls.

The five functions, and what each one is in your business

1 · Attention
Reels, shorts, YouTube

→

2 · Warmth
Long videos, stories, email, free guide

→

3 · Conversion
Page, application, call

→

5 · Delivery
Mentorship, course, signals

▲

4 · Infrastructure
Automations, tracking and (later) a team, so it runs without you doing every step by hand

Delivery feeds back into Attention: student results become your best content.

Cold → warm → hot: how a stranger becomes a student

COLD
Saw 1–5 reels. Doesn't know you.

→

WARM
Watched long videos, follows your stories, took the free guide.

→

HOT
Binged your content, saw results, applies for a call.

Top of funnel
Broad, shareable. Job: reach. Never sell here.

Middle of funnel
Teaching, your story, behind the scenes. Job: trust.

Bottom of funnel
Detailed breakdowns, real results, losses, student stories. Job: the booking.

The 7-11-4 rule (he credits a Google study)

7 hours
of your content consumed

11 touches
times they run into you

4 places
Instagram, YouTube, email, Discord

This is why a 30-second reel never sells a $5,000 program, and why most students buy 1–4 weeks after finding you.

YOUR VERSION

You already have three of the five: an audience on Instagram, a real story, and a product nobody else has (the bot). What's missing is Warmth (long-form YouTube and story sequences), Conversion (a page, an application and a booking link) and Infrastructure (tracking). That is what the first 30 days build.

MODULE 2

Why high ticket: the math

His strongest opinion. The same 100 viewers are worth roughly 20 times more with a call-based offer.

Same 100 warm viewers, two business models (his numbers)

Low ticket: $100/month subscription

100 viewers → 50 click checkout → 8 buy, stay ~2 months → $800

High ticket: application + sales call

100 viewers → 40 book (40%) → 28 show (70%) → 8 buy (30%)

8 × $2,500 collected up front $20,000

"Viewers" here means warm people who reach your page, not raw reel views.

What he says goes wrong with low ticket

- Members stay 2–3 months, so lifetime value is only $200–$250.
- 30–40% leave every month. You are always replacing people.
- More refunds and disputes, which can get a payment account frozen.
- You feel forced to post trades daily to keep people subscribed.
- Usually caps at $10K–$20K a month.

What he says high ticket gives you

- $10K a month is 3–5 clients, about one sale a week.
- Buyers have paid enough to do the work, so results are better.
- Better results mean testimonials, which mean more buyers.
- Margins of 80%+ with almost no team.
- Each sale can grow: upgrades, renewals, payment plans.

WHAT HE TEACHES

"People don't buy into trading signal groups. They buy into people." He calls signal groups "outdated and saturated" and tells signal sellers to build a personal brand with a mentorship instead.

YOUR VERSION

This matches the decision you already made: sell the mentorship, downsell the course, and include the signals instead of selling them. Your bot stops being a $50 product and becomes the reason your mentorship is different from everyone else's.

CAREFUL

His model assumes your delivery really is worth $5,000. The price only holds if students get a real change, so Module 11 matters as much as the selling.

MODULE 3

Your positioning: claim, customer, offer

"A trading brand without a unique selling point will never sell." He asks for four decisions.

Who to sell to: the pain × money grid

MONEY →

Money, no pain Curious 9-to-5ers who never traded. Avoid.	Money + pain ✓ Traded 6–12+ months, lost money, has income. Your customer.
No money, no pain Total beginners. Avoid.	Pain, no money Wants it, can't pay. Course at most.

PAIN →

His rule: the people your content attracts must match the people your offer is for.

HIS FOUR DECISIONS

1. One market, not "everyone who wants to trade".
2. A claim nobody can argue with: verified, with documents.
3. One specific person with real pain and real money.
4. Show up as yourself. No persona, no script reading, keep the stumbles.

> "If you don't have one, you blend in with tens of thousands of other trading gurus."

YOUR VERSION

Decision	Yours
One market	Crypto leverage trading, with a system. Memecoins are your origin story and one module, not the brand.
The claim	"Former doctor. $7K to $1.1M, with the receipts. Now I trade with a rules-based bot whose every trade is public." Three proofs nobody else has together: the medical career, the documented run, the public results page.
The person	25–45, has a job or business, has traded crypto for 6+ months, has lost money on leverage or given back memecoin gains, and has $3K+ to fix it.
Yourself	The doctor angle is your personality on camera: checklists, protocols, "first do no harm" applied to risk. Nobody else can copy that.

Your one-line pitch: "I help people who keep losing on leverage trade like a system instead of a gambler, using the exact rules and signals my own bot trades."

Free content versus the paid program (how he says the best in the niche do it)

Give away 80–90%
Risk, sizing, mindset, what a good trade looks like, your results and losses

+

Sell access and implementation
Your time, feedback on their trades, the signals, the structure, accountability

This also solves your worry about people copying the system. You teach the principles in public and keep the exact rules private; what people pay for is you and the working signals.

CAREFUL

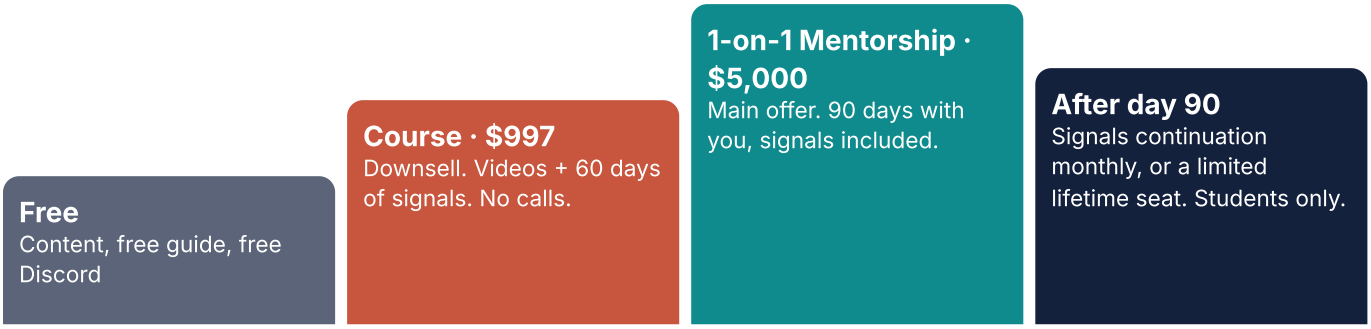

Your $1.1M came from memecoins; the mentorship teaches leverage with a system. Say that plainly in your story. And the bot's public record is still short (about 32 closed trades), so lead with your own documented history now and let the results page grow into the main proof.

MODULE 4

Your offer ladder and pricing

He always builds two or three offers so no lead is wasted: a main offer, a downsell and, later, an upsell.

Your ladder

Later, when 1-on-1 fills up (he says around 10–15 students, $30K–$50K a month): a group mentorship becomes the main offer and 1-on-1 becomes a $10K+ upsell.

Payment plans cost more than paying in full

Offer	Pay in full	2 payments
Mentorship	$5,000	2 × $3,000
Course	$997	2 × $600

Pay-in-full clearance: anyone on a plan can clear the balance at the pay-in-full price within 30 days. Example: paid $3,000, clears with $2,000 instead of another $3,000. He says this lifts cash up front and plan completion.

His three pricing tests

1. Your hourly rate. $5,000 ÷ about 15 hours of your time = $333/hour. If your business as a whole earns more per hour than that, raise the price.
2. Student return. The program should be able to make them about 10× the price over time.
3. Your close rate. Closing over 60–80% of calls means you're too cheap. Under 20–30% means too expensive or the wrong leads.

WHAT HE TEACHES

- Start with 1-on-1 as the main offer. It's the easiest to sell and gives the best results and testimonials.
- In one case study the split was 65% main offer, 25% downsell, 10% upsell. Without the other two offers, 35% of buyers would have been lost.
- Never sell lifetime coaching or lifetime community. A course's videos can be lifetime, because they cost you no time.
- Use contracts, signed automatically, for every sale.

YOUR VERSION

- Mentorship, 90 days: a call every two weeks, direct chat with you, the full curriculum, signals for all markets, the dashboard. Optional BloFin auto-trade after the risk module.
- Course: 8–12 recorded lessons plus 60 days of signals. Record it in weeks 2–3. Until it exists, the downsell is "join the waitlist".
- Lifetime signals: his "never offer lifetime" rule is why I suggested capping seats and wording it "for the life of the service". Monthly continuation is the safer default.

CAREFUL

He promises results on his pages ("guaranteed") with $1,000 back. Don't guarantee trading profits; in most places that is a legal problem for anything investment-related. Offer a guarantee on what you control: "do the work for 14 days; if it isn't what I described, full refund."

MODULE 5

The chain of rates: your numbers

"The entire trading business is math." Write the goal as monthly cash, run the chain backwards, find the weakest link.

The chain

YouTube views → Page visits 5% of views → Calls booked 10% of visits → Shows 80% of booked → Closes 50% of shows → Cash $3,500 average up front

The percentages are his benchmark for a tuned business. He counts YouTube views only, because that is where buyers come from.

What each income level needs per month

Target	YouTube views	Page visits	Calls booked	Shows	Closes	Who closes
$10K · your first target	2,000	100	10	8	4	You
$30K	6,000	300	30	24	12	You
$100K	20,000	1,000	100	80	40	1–2 setters + closers
$250K	50,000	2,500	250	200	100	3–5 + manager

In his model $10K a month is about 2.5 booked calls a week. He calls this stage "the easiest".

A cautious first-month version for you

Step	Rate	Number
Calls booked		20
Show up	70%	14
Buy	30%	4
Cash at $2,500 average		$10,000

So plan for five booked calls a week. You have a warm Instagram audience, so many of your first bookings will come from stories and DMs before YouTube catches up.

Small fixes compound

Same 100 booked calls, same content

60% show · 25% close
$52,500

80% show · 35% close
$98,000

Nearly double, with no extra views or leads.

HIS SIX BOTTLENECKS, AND THE QUESTION TO ASK AT EACH

Weak link	Likely cause
Not enough views	Not enough videos, or weak titles and thumbnails
Views but few page visits	The call to action in your content is weak
Visits but few bookings	The page video isn't strong enough
Bookings but no-shows	Reminders, the after-booking video, no personal contact
Shows but few sales	The call: discovery, handling objections, the pitch
Sales but low cash	Pricing, payment plans, no pay-in-full incentive

Wait for 50 or more of an event before trusting its rate. "Two calls tells you nothing." Below about $10K a month, focus on the basics instead of fine-tuning.

MODULE 6

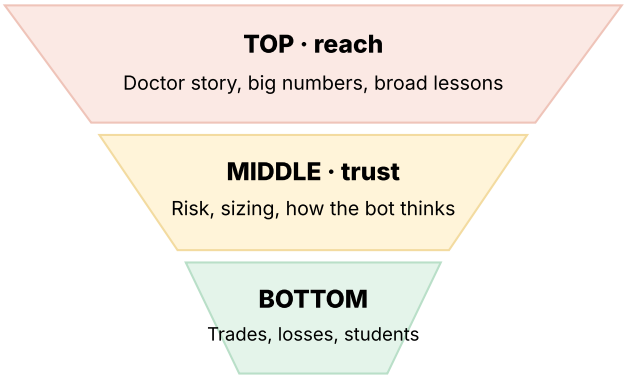

Content: what to post and where

"Content and getting eyeballs is the biggest lever you can ever pull." But posted with a plan, not at random.

Each platform has one job

Platform	Job
YouTube long videos	Turns viewers into buyers. The only views he counts.
Instagram reels	Reach strangers, send them to YouTube.
Instagram stories	Daily contact. Story sequences build trust.
TikTok, X	Optional. Repost reels automatically.
Email, Discord	Keep warming people between videos.

The content funnel

Rotate all three. Bottom videos get far fewer views and make most of the money.

Your 10 scripted videos, placed in the funnel

Stage	Video (already written for you)	Why it sits here
Top	02 Doctor to trader · 09 $1,000 starting over · 04 Why most blow accounts	Broad curiosity. Anyone who trades will click.
Middle	03 Why I built a bot · 05 How I size leverage · 08 Memecoins to leverage	Teaches your way of thinking. Builds trust.
Bottom	01 4 trades, skipped 300 · 06 Live trade breakdown · 07 30 days of the bot · 10 Member interview	Proof. The viewer here is close to applying.

The two numbers YouTube rewards

Low clicks · high watch
Good video, bad title or thumbnail. Easiest fix.

High clicks · high watch
Gets pushed. Make more like it.

Low clicks · low watch
The idea is weak. Drop it.

High clicks · low watch
Clickbait. Didn't deliver the title.

His targets: click rate above 6%, average watch time above 5 minutes.

How much to post

Format	His number	Your start
YouTube	6 a month (every 4–6 days)	1 a week, then 6 a month
Reels / shorts	3–5 a day at the top end; 7 a week for one client	1 a day, batch-filmed
Story sequences	3–4 a week	3 a week
Mix	90% value, 10% selling

YOUR VERSION: THE SHORT-FORM SERIES

His best-performing short format is a numbered daily series ("Day 8 of..."). Viewers see a number, go back to Day 1 and binge. Yours writes itself: "Day N: my bot's trades today" or "Road to 100 public trades", 30–45 seconds each: what it took, what it skipped, the running result. Wins and losses.

More ideas from his list: batch 3–4 talking videos on the weekend; schedule everything so daily posting isn't a chore; make the content your past self needed; ask every student what they struggle with and film the answers; when one video takes off, make more on that topic.

WHAT HE TEACHES ABOUT PROOF AND LOSSES

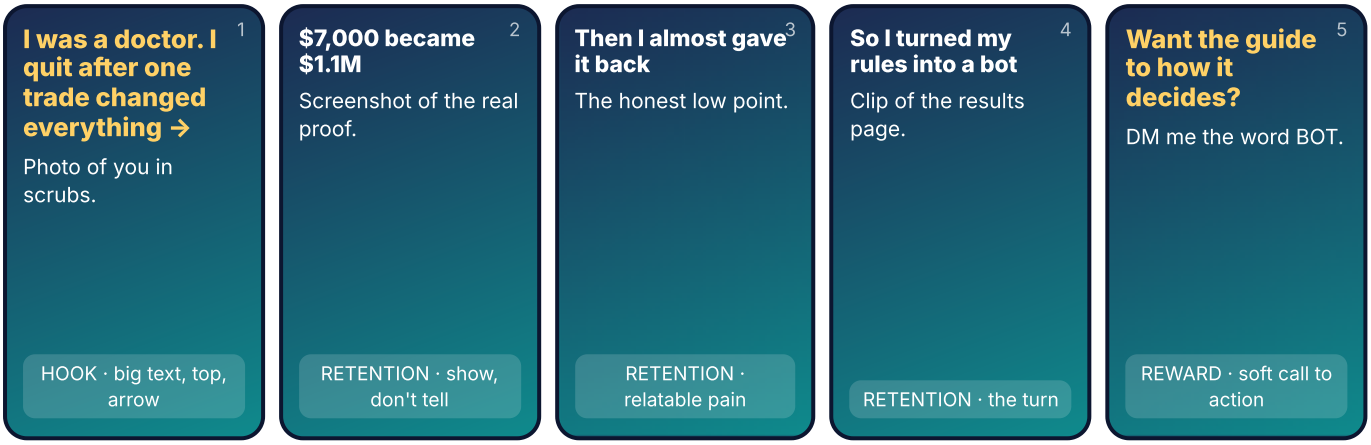

A raw 52-minute video of a top creator losing $34,000 made more sales than a "new car" lifestyle video. Lifestyle attracts beginners; honest trading attracts buyers. "Never think you have a boring life," but keep YouTube educational.

MODULE 7

Instagram story sequences

Several story slides that tell one story, then get saved to a highlight so they keep working. He calls saved highlights "money assets".

The structure of every sequence: hook → retention → reward. Example for you:

Slide rules he gives: hook at the top in bigger, different-coloured text; an arrow to the next slide; a photo of you as the background; screenshots beat plain text.

His nine types, with your version of each

Type	Your version	How often
1 Value	A lesson in 5–8 slides: "the 3 checks before any leverage trade".	Weekly
2 Launch	A countdown to opening mentorship spots (see the pre-launch plan).	Every 3–4 months
3 Journey	Doctor → $7K → $1.1M → quitting → the bot, in sections.	Once, pinned
4 Own results	One highlight holding all your proof and the results page.	Keep updated
5 Q&A	Answer the objections you hear: "is it too late?", "do I need a big account?"	Every 2–4 weeks
6 Life	One photo of your day. No message needed.	Most days
7 Behind the scenes	Your desk, the bot's alert arriving, a student call.	Most days
8 Case study	One student in 3–5 slides, ending with a link to the full interview.	Each new result
9 Documentary	A month-long highlight: the bot's trades day by day, wins, losses, everything.	One per month

He says the documentary is the hardest and the most valuable: someone who watches a whole month is "super super warm".

SOFT VERSUS HARD CALL TO ACTION

Soft: "DM me BOT", "watch the full video". Use on most sequences.
Hard: "Apply for a call". Use at the end of a launch or a documentary, after the trust is built.

YOUR HIGHLIGHTS, IN THIS ORDER

My story · Proof · Bot results (monthly) · Students 1, 2, 3 · Q&A · How to work with me. The first slide of each must be a strong hook, with a cover people want to tap.

CAREFUL

For testimonials from well-known people, get written permission before using their name or face in sales content, and never imply they earned money from your program if they didn't.

MODULE 8

Lead capture: freebie, email and ManyChat

Most people won't apply the first time they see you. Capture them, then keep showing up.

Your capture flow

Reel, story or video — "Comment or DM the word BOT" → ManyChat replies — Voice note from you + asks for email → Free guide sent — PDF by email → Email sequence — 6 emails over 10 days → Application — Link to your page

WHAT HE TEACHES: MANYCHAT VOICE NOTES

The call to action on a story is a DM keyword. ManyChat then sends an automatic voice note you recorded once on your phone, a few seconds after they message. "Voice notes work so good" because they feel personal.

His example keyword is a number of spots, such as "10". The voice note says spots are limited and asks what they struggle with. A person then continues the chat.

YOUR VERSION

Keyword BOT → voice note: "Hey, thanks for reaching out. I'll send the guide now. Quick question while it arrives: how long have you been trading, and what's been the hardest part?"

Their answer decides the next step: serious and able to invest → application link. Not ready → guide and emails. This is the setter's job done by you plus automation until you can hire one.

Your free guide (he uses 10–16 page PDFs and checklists)

"The 7-point checklist my bot runs before it risks a dollar."

- Plain language, no system names.
- One real finished trade as the example.
- Last page: your story and the application link.

A second one later, for people closer to buying: "How I size a leverage trade so one loss can't hurt me."

The email sequence he outlines

1. Their pain: why they keep losing. Deliver the guide.
2. Your best bottom-of-funnel YouTube video.
3. Your story: doctor, the run, quitting.
4. A free lesson that really helps.
5. "Where you are versus where you want to be."
6. How the mentorship closes that gap. Apply here.

Free Discord: the waiting room

#announcements · #new-videos · #bot-results — delayed, entry/stop/target only · #free-guide · #support-tickets

He recommends turning off DMs from non-friends and using a ticket channel, so support can be handed to someone else later.

CAREFUL

His voice notes lean on "only 10 spots". Only say a number if it's true. For 1-on-1 it is true: you can honestly take about 10–15 students, so "I take 5 new students a month" is real scarcity. Also let the chat say it is an automated assistant when someone asks, and never let it promise returns.

MODULE 9

The funnel: page, application, reminders

One rule runs through it: every step only sells the next step.

Page 1: your application page

Headline · "Stop gambling on leverage. Trade a system, with a former doctor who turned $7K into $1.1M beside you for 90 days."

Promise you control · "14 days: if it isn't what I described, full refund."

▶ Step 1 · Watch this video (5–8 min)

Step 2 · Start application

Proof wall · results, student stories, testimonials

The video's only job is the click on "Start application". It does not explain the program.

Page 2: after they book

"You're booked." · Date and time confirmed.

▶ Watch before our call (10–15 min)

What the video covers · how the 90 days work, what they get, who it suits, student results, what to prepare.

"Reply YES to the email" · confirms the call and keeps your emails out of spam.

He calls this video "an absolute must". It lifts both show rate and close rate because people arrive already understanding the offer.

Your application questions (adapted from his)

Question	Why he asks it
What's your biggest struggle with trading right now?	You repeat their words back on the call.
What's your goal, and why now?	Their reason to act.
Which describes you? New · Trading under a year · 1+ years, not profitable · Profitable, want to scale	Makes them name where they are.
This is 1-on-1 mentorship, not a signals group. What can you invest in getting this right? Under $1K · $1K–$3K · $3K–$5K · $5K+	The money filter.
Your Instagram handle	So you can message them before the call.

What happens after the application

Application sent → Budget $3K+? → YES · books a call (calendar shows the next 4 days only) → After-booking video + reminders → Call with you

▼ no

Under $3K (you message to check; some understate) → Course offer (short video + checkout link) → Later: upgrade to mentorship (course price counted toward it)

He limits booking to 4 days ahead because show rate "drops drastically" for calls a week out. He estimates rescuing lost leads is worth 10–20% extra revenue.

Reminder timeline (he recommends 4–6, not 12)

Booked	1 day before	6 hours	2 hours	1 hour	15 min	+5 min
Confirm + video. You message within minutes.	Email + a student story like theirs	Email	Instagram DM or WhatsApp	Email	Text with the link	If no show: "Still joining?"

Put a video or testimonial inside the reminders. Match it to their application answer: someone with a 9-to-5 gets the story of a student with a 9-to-5.

THREE RESCUE SEQUENCES HE RUNS

1. Started the form, didn't finish: message them the same day.
2. Booked, didn't show: message to rebook.
3. Had the call, didn't buy: follow up; offer a second call or the course.

PRE-CALL VIDEOS

Record 3 short videos (about 5 minutes each), one per common problem: overtrading, position sizing and liquidations, giving back profits. Send the matching one before the call based on their application.

MODULE 10

The sales call and follow-up

Below about $25K–$30K a month you close yourself. He says it is the only way to learn what your buyers actually say.

The call structure he lists (30–45 minutes)

1 Agenda — "Here's how this call works"

→ 2 Discovery — Their situation, goal, what's stopping them, the cost of staying there

→ 3 Pre-handle objections — Raise the doubts before they do

→ 4 Pitch — The 90 days as the bridge from here to there

→ 5 Close — Price, plan, payment on the call

He gives the stages but not a word-for-word script; his scripts are for paying clients. I can write yours as a next step.

Who should be talking

One client before coaching

After

Record every call (he uses Fathom) and check the talk ratio. That client turned the training into a one-page checklist and followed it on each call.

The three outcomes on the call

Fits and can invest → Mentorship, pay in full or 2 payments

Fits, truly can't afford it → Course, on the call

Doesn't fit → say so, send free content

He prefers taking payment on the call, with contracts signed automatically after.

HOW HE SAYS TO RAISE THE CLOSE RATE

- Match their pain. Use the application answers and the pre-call video they watched.
- Pre-handle objections in public. If "will this work with a small account?" keeps coming up, answer it in a Q&A story, the after-booking page and a video.
- Ask every new student why they bought. A 15-question form after purchase: what made you buy, the tipping point, what almost stopped you. After 50 answers you know exactly what to say in content.
- Don't hire friends or students to sell. And not before the offer is selling well with you on the calls.

YOUR VERSION: THE OBJECTIONS YOU'LL HEAR

They say	Where you answer it before the call
"Is the bot's record long enough?"	Public results page; the 30-day video; your own documented history.
"I only have a small account."	The sizing video: risk is a percentage, not a dollar figure.
"Why not just buy the signals?"	Story sequence: signals without sizing and discipline still lose money. The mentorship is the sizing and discipline.
"I need to think about it."	The 14-day refund promise and the pay-in-full clearance window.

CAREFUL

Sell with their real situation, not pressure. If someone would be putting in money they can't afford to lose, the right answer is the free content, even if they want to buy. That protects them and your reputation.

MODULE 11

Delivery: the 90 days and the flywheel

"Fulfillment, fulfillment, fulfillment." He calls delivery the most important of the five functions and bad delivery "a ticking time bomb".

The flywheel

Students get results → Interviews + case studies → Better content → More applications → More students

He says about 90% of his own videos and stories are client results. Interview a student as soon as they hit a first milestone.

Your 90 days in three phases (he structures programs in phases so people finish, and finish paying)

Weeks 1–4

Protect

- Onboarding call, account setup
- Risk per trade, sizing, liquidation check
- Follow the signals at minimum size
- Journal every trade

Milestone: 10 trades taken exactly by the rules.

Weeks 5–8

Build

- Reading a signal: why this one, why not that one
- Taking profit, moving memecoin gains into a trading plan
- Trade reviews on calls
- Unlocks: optional auto-trade on demo

Milestone: a full month without breaking a rule.

Weeks 9–12

Independence

- Their own written plan
- Scaling size slowly
- Results interview
- Continuation offer for signals

Milestone: they can explain every trade without you.

WHAT HE TEACHES ABOUT 1-ON-1 DELIVERY

- Calls every two weeks, not weekly. People bring real questions; chat covers the rest. "If there's no agenda, it's a waste of time."
- After about half the program, good students need you half as much.
- Keep delivery under 1–2 hours a day. Write everything down so the program "does the call for them".
- Hold them accountable. Don't say "just don't overtrade next week". Ask why it happened.
- A dashboard of total student profit, shared in stories, gets reposted by students.

YOUR VERSION

- The member dashboard you asked for (their win rate, their trades) is exactly his "dashboard" idea. It becomes part of delivery and of your content.
- Signals give students a win in week 1, which is rare in mentorships.
- Automate onboarding: payment → contract → welcome email → Discord role → "why did you buy" form.
- Ask for feedback after month one: what's good, what's missing.

Money after the first sale (he says the back end adds about 30–50% on top)

Payment plans completing + Course → mentorship upgrade + Signals continuation + Renewal or advanced round + Exchange referral link

Each gets its own short video, shown only to the students it applies to.

CAREFUL

If you earn a referral fee from an exchange, tell students. And auto-trading other people's accounts can count as regulated activity depending on country, so get legal advice before charging for it.

MODULE 12

Tracking, team and when to hire

"If you don't track it, you don't know what you don't know." A weak number is a symptom; trace it back to its cause.

Your dashboard: start in a Google Sheet, one row per week

YOUTUBE VIEWS	PAGE VISITS	CALLS BOOKED	SHOW RATE
2,000	100	10–20	80%
first target / month	5% of views	10% of visits	under 60% = problem

CLOSE RATE	CASH PER SALE	CASH ÷ CONTRACT VALUE	CASH PER BOOKED CALL
30–50%	$3,500	60–70%	$700–2,000
over 60% = raise price	average up front	over 90% = raise price	the one number to watch

Also log where each booking came from (which video or story). One of his clients traced $2.5M to a single video, then made more like it.

The weekly loop

1 Measure every rate → 2 Compare to the target → 3 Pick one the weakest link → 4 Ship a fix → 5 Keep or kill ↻

One fix at a time, or you never learn what worked.

Who you need at each stage (his roadmap)

Monthly cash	Content	Sales	Systems	Delivery
$0–$10K	You	You	Simple, you	You, 1-on-1
$10K–$30K	+ editor, thumbnail designer	You	You	You, up to 10–15 students
$30K–$100K	Same	1–2 setters, 1–2 closers	+ an assistant	Switch main offer to group
$100K–$250K	Same	3–5 + sales manager	+ ops manager	+ student success manager
$1M+	Same	5–10 reps	Same	+ community manager; ads start

One setter plus one closer handles about $100K a month. He quotes 10% commission for closers. His first hire, before any closer, is a setter.

HIS TIME BUDGET FOR YOU

- Content: 1–2 hours a day
- Delivery: 1–2 hours a day
- Admin, tracking, chasing: as close to zero as automation allows

His test for every task: "Could I do this if 100 people booked tomorrow?" If not, simplify it, then automate it.

CAREFUL

He says no ads before $100K a month and no "we run it all for a share" agencies before $250K. I agree with both. Any agency keen to take over a small business for a revenue share is, in his words, probably not good.

BONUS

Your 14-day pre-launch

He opens a program with a 2–3 week build-up: 8–12 story sequences, 6–7 emails, Discord announcements and a waitlist. You have an audience, so this is how you open the mentorship.

Day by day

Day 1 Journey sequence: doctor → $1.1M. Soft: "something's coming."	Day 2 Reel: "Why I built a bot." Email 1: your story.	Day 3 Student result sequence. Soft CTA to interview.	Day 4 YouTube: doctor story video. Discord announcement.	Day 5 Waitlist opens. Sequence: what I'm opening and for whom. Email 2.	Day 6 Q&A stories: answer objections.	Day 7 Bot results sequence: every trade this week.
Day 8 YouTube: "4 trades, skipped 300." Email 3: a lesson.	Day 9 Second student result. "5 days."	Day 10 Behind the scenes: building the program. Email 4.	Day 11 Value sequence: the 3 checks. "3 days."	Day 12 YouTube: live trade breakdown. Email 5: who it's for.	Day 13 "Tomorrow." Hard CTA: waitlist gets first access. Email 6.	Day 14 · OPEN Launch email + sequence. Waitlist books first. Message every booking yourself.

Pattern he uses: soft calls to action in the first half, hard ones at the end. After launch: one or two "last spots" emails, then back to normal content.

WHAT HE TEACHES

- A waitlist turned into 330 booked calls in 24 hours for one client with about 4,200 on the list.
- Waitlist leads book first, and close better.
- Send emails at the time your audience is most active (his client's was 12:30).
- Seasonal angles work. He calls New Year "a gold mine": "don't waste another year."
- A pre-launch needs an existing audience. With 10 followers, build first.

YOUR VERSION

- Have the page, application, booking link and after-booking video ready before day 1.
- Open a real, limited number: for example 8 mentorship spots.
- It's mid-November now. A build-up through December with a January opening fits his New Year angle exactly.
- Expect a few sales from a first launch, not hundreds. The goal is your first 4–8 students and their results.

ACTION PLAN

Start tomorrow

About four hours. By the end of the day someone can find you, apply, and book a call.

Morning · 2 hours

- [ ] Write your one-line pitch and your customer (Module 3). 20 min.
- [ ] Create the mentorship on Whop: $5,000 in full, or 2 × $3,000. 20 min.
- [ ] Build the application with the 5 questions (Typeform or Whop form). 30 min.
- [ ] Set up a booking calendar: 45-minute calls, next 4 days only, 3 slots a day. 20 min.
- [ ] Start a tracking sheet: date, name, source, booked, showed, bought, cash. 15 min.

Afternoon · 2 hours

- [ ] Record the page video (5–8 min, phone is fine): who you are, who this is for, the problem, what changes, "apply below". 45 min.
- [ ] Put the application link in your Instagram bio and YouTube descriptions. 5 min.
- [ ] Post story sequence #1: the journey (Module 7). Save it as the "My story" highlight. 40 min.
- [ ] Message 10 warm people who've asked about your trading: "I'm opening a few 1-on-1 spots. Want the details?" 30 min.

Your first 7 days

Day	Build	Post
1	Offer on Whop, application, calendar, tracking sheet, page video	Journey story sequence
2	Record the after-booking video (10–15 min). Write 5 reminder messages.	Reel 1 · proof highlight
3	Film YouTube video 02 (doctor story) with your script and the recording guide	Reel 2 · behind-the-scenes story
4	Write the free guide. Set up ManyChat keyword BOT with a voice note.	Publish YouTube 02 · value sequence with "DM BOT"
5	Write the 6 emails. Contract template.	Reel 3 · Q&A stories
6	Batch-film 4 reels and YouTube video 03	Reel 4 · student story
7	Review the sheet: views, applications, calls. Pick one thing to fix.	Reel 5 · start "Day 1" of the bot series

WHAT "DONE" LOOKS LIKE AFTER WEEK ONE

1	5	3	3–5
YOUTUBE VIDEO LIVE	REELS POSTED	STORY SEQUENCES IN HIGHLIGHTS	CALLS BOOKED

CAREFUL

This is separate from the trading bot. Nothing in this plan changes it. The members' signal feed and dashboard are a separate build that starts once you create the new repository.

ACTION PLAN

Your 30-day plan

His 30-day plan for a client, rebuilt for a business where you are still the whole team.

Week 1

Foundation

- Offer, application, calendar
- Page video + after-booking video
- Tracking sheet
- Highlights: story, proof
- YouTube 02 live
- Message warm contacts

Target: 3–5 calls booked

Week 2

Capture

- Free guide + ManyChat + emails
- Free Discord set up
- 3 pre-call videos
- Reminders automated
- YouTube 03 and 04
- Daily bot series running

Target: first 1–2 students

Week 3

Delivery

- Record the course (8–12 lessons)
- Onboarding automated: contract, welcome, role, form
- Course on Whop as the downsell
- YouTube 05 and 01
- First case study sequence

Target: 5 calls a week

Week 4

Tune

- Review every rate; fix the weakest
- Rescue messages for no-shows and "not yet"
- First student interview filmed
- YouTube 06
- Plan the pre-launch for January

Target: $10K collected

Your weekly rhythm once it's running

Mon	Tue	Wed	Thu	Fri	Sat	Sun
Reel · story sequence (value) · review last week's numbers	Reel · calls · publish YouTube	Reel · story sequence (case study) · student calls	Reel · calls · behind the scenes	Reel · story sequence (bot week recap) · email	Film: 1 YouTube + 4 reels. Life story.	Schedule the week. Q&A stories. Rest.

About 3–4 hours a day: 1–2 on content, 1–2 on students, plus calls.

Milestones, in his order

When you reach	Do this next
First 3 students	Film their results as they come. Ask each why they bought.
$10K a month	Hire an editor and a thumbnail designer. Go to 6 YouTube videos a month.
10–15 students at once	Raise the 1-on-1 price. Design the group mentorship as the new main offer.
$25K–$30K a month	Hire a setter first, then a closer. Move the sheet to a proper dashboard.
$100K a month	Sales manager, assistant, and only now consider ads.

REFERENCE

Tool stack

What he names, and the lean version to start with. You already have Whop and Discord.

Job	Start with	He uses, for later
Payments, access	Whop (you have it)	Whop, Fanbasis (larger payments, financing), wires, crypto
Community	Discord (you have it)	Discord, with ticket support
Application	Typeform or a Whop form	iClosed, GoHighLevel
Booking	Calendly	iClosed, GoHighLevel calendars
Page + video hosting	A simple one-page site; video unlisted	GoHighLevel or Lovable; Wistia for the videos
DM automation	ManyChat (keyword + voice note)	ManyChat
Email	Kit	Kit ("way better" than sending from the funnel tool)
Call recording	Fathom	Fathom
Contracts	PandaDoc or DocuSign	DocuSign, signed automatically
Tracking	Google Sheet	Sheet → Looker Studio dashboard
Scheduling posts	Metricool	Metricool, Repurpose.io (auto-repost reels)
Video ideas	vidIQ	vidIQ: find videos doing 10–20× a channel's normal
Glue	Zapier	Zapier, Make, n8n

What I would not copy

His system works because of the structure, not because of these tactics. Leaving them out costs little and protects you.

GUARANTEED RESULTS

"Become a six-figure trader, guaranteed." Promising trading outcomes invites legal trouble and refunds. Guarantee your delivery, not their profits.

FAKE SCARCITY

A spots counter coded to drop by itself, and "reply YES or your call is cancelled" when he admits it won't be. Use real limits; you have them.

PRETENDING TO BE YOU

A setter writing as "the coach", or a video faked to look personally recorded. Have helpers say they're on your team.

BLOCKING WHOLE COUNTRIES

He auto-rejects by phone prefix. The budget question already does the job fairly, person by person.

INCOME CLAIMS

Show your real numbers with context and "results not typical". Never suggest a student will repeat $7K to $1.1M.

HIS NUMBERS

Every revenue figure and benchmark in this course is self-reported by someone selling a service. Treat them as targets to test, not promises.

WHAT I CAN BUILD NEXT

The page video script · the after-booking video script · the sales-call checklist · the ManyChat flow and voice-note scripts · the 6 emails · the free guide · the course outline · 30 reel hooks · the story sequence slide copy.

Business education only. Not legal, tax or financial advice. Trading with leverage carries a high risk of loss.